

Gender Equality: Taking Stock of Where We Are

fwa.org/spotlight/gender-equality-taking-stock-of-where-we-are/

There is a growing consensus among top executives that gender diversity is both an ethical and a business imperative. Yet progress is painfully slow. Despite modest improvements, women are underrepresented at every level of today's corporations, especially in senior positions.

Why are women still underrepresented at every level of today's corporations?
